Accredited by the American College of Surgeons' Commission on Cancer since 1992, the Enoch Callaway Cancer Center supports patients from diagnosis to treatment, whether chemotherapy, radiation therapy, surgery or other support therapies, our multidisciplinary team of physicians and clinical staff has the expertise and technology to give you a fighting chance to beat cancer.

The Enoch Callaway Cancer Center offers a variety of complementary therapies that focus on healing beyond medical treatment. These therapies include Curvy Yoga, Art Therapy and Nutrition Therapy, as well as American Cancer Society programs Reach to Recovery, Road to Recovery and Look Good, Feel Better.

Two members of the Enoch Callaway Cancer Center team are patient navigators who offer a helping hand through every step of a cancer patient's journey. Among their many duties, they serve as patient advocates, care coordinators and liaisons between physicians, providers, patients and family members.

WellStar West Georgia Medical Center offers a Low-Dose CT screening program to achieve early detection of lung cancer in high-risk patients.

The Enoch Callaway Cancer Center offers an hereditary risk assessment program for people who have a strong family history of breast, ovarian, colorectal and endometrial cancers. The program requires a physician referral and is open to people who meet certain guidelines. To learn more, visit this website, ask your physician or call (706) 845-3866 to set an appointment or request additional information.

WellStar West Georgia Medical Center offers two support groups for cancer patients. The Cancer WellStar WGMC Cancer Support Group meets the last Monday of
